Added value of wood in the future

Workshop for PhD students and Early-stage researchers in Wood technology and Forest operations enrolled in Italian research bodies

Università degli Studi di Firenze

Sala Seminari SAGAS (Ex Aula 12), Via Gino Capponi, 9 - Firenze

27 February 2018, 9:00-13:00

Introduction

Addressed to PhD students and Early-stage researchers, the workshop is organized within the GdL “Tecnologia del legno e Utilizzazioni forestali” of the “Società Italiana di Selvicoltura ed Ecologia Forestale” (SISEF) (<https://sisef.org/gdl/tecnologia-utilizzazioni/>).

The workshop places particular emphasis on PhD students and their research activity for increasing their knowledge about the advances in Wood technology and Forest operations. PhD students and Early-stage researchers will present each other their researches in order to show the results of Doctoral studies, share the competences and increase the cooperation. All PhD students and Early-stage researchers in Wood technology and Forest operations enrolled in Italian research bodies are warmly invited.

Note: an interesting opportunity for the participants is attending the COST FP1407 meeting that will be held on February 26, 2018 at the University of Firenze. For any information concerning this event, please refer to Dr. Giacomo Goli (giacomo.goli@unifi.it).

Call for abstracts and information

- The participation is free of charge. The workshop is addressed at PhD students and Early-stage researchers who deal with Wood technology or Forest operations, refer to Italian research bodies and are currently enrolled in a Doctorate course or have earned their PhD after 2008;
- Abstracts shall be submitted by email to paola.cetera@unibas.it within February 12, 2018 using the specific application form. The abstracts and the presentations shall be single authored. Please write the abstracts in English, whereas oral presentations and slides can be in English or in Italian (note that Italian is the official language of the workshop).
- The presentations shall be aimed at illustrating the research activities of the author, for instance through a specific study or by a wider overview;
- Each presentation will last 15 mins and will be followed by a brief space for questions;
- The template for presentations will be made available to participants by February 15, 2018;
- Presentations should be submitted to paola.cetera@unibas.it, preferably in .pdf, by February 25, 2018;
- Please note that minor adjustments could be made for optimizing the unfolding of the workshop. Any update will be communicated through the newsletter of the GdL or by direct emailing to participants.
